

VETERAN SUPPORT BOOKLET

INDEX

SUPPORT FOR VETERANS

The Veteran Support Booklet has been developed to provide an overview of key organisations offering assistance to Serving personnel and Ex-servicemen and women of the United Kingdom Armed Forces. There are currently more than 1,818 organisations dedicated to supporting veterans or recognised as veteran-accredited.

As a veteran myself, I have experienced first-hand the challenges that can arise both during service and in the years that follow. The transition from military to civilian life can be complex, and for many, the most significant difficulties emerge after the uniform is removed. Through my own journey, I have come to understand that no one should be expected to navigate these challenges alone. A wide range of organisations work tirelessly to provide vital support to veterans and their families, and this booklet aims to make those resources easier to access.

If you are aware of an organisation that is not currently included, or if you represent an organisation that should be added, please submit the relevant details via the Contact Us link: Contact Us

And finally,

Thank you for your Service

VETERANS HEALTHCARE ON DISCHARGE FROM THE MILITARY

A veteran is someone who has served in the armed forces for at least one day. There are around 2.6 million veterans in the UK.

It is highly important for continuing healthcare that you register with an NHS GP and remember to tell them you've served.

When you leave the forces, you should be given the option of receiving your medical records for you to pass on to the GP Practice. Alternatively, you will be asked to complete the Military Medical Record Request Form (Click Here), which should be handed in when you register with a practice for them to request your records from the military.

Requests for military medical records can take up to 6 months to receive your notes so its advised that you get copies of your records before you leave so these can be merged these with your NHS records.

When servicemen and women leave the armed forces, their healthcare is the responsibility of the NHS. You shouldn't be disadvantaged from accessing appropriate health services, so it is important that you notify your current GP that you are moving, particularly if you are on a waiting list of medical treatment, so that this information can be transferred across.

All veterans are entitled to priority access to NHS care (including hospital, primary or community care) for conditions associated to their time within the armed forces (service-related). However this is always subject to clinical need and does not entitle you to jump the queue ahead of someone with a higher clinical need.

If you are already registered with a GP Practice ensure that they know you are a veteran so they can code your record. They will then ensure appropriate referrals are noted with your status as a military veteran, so that you may receive priority access, should this be appropriate.

ARMED FORCES COVENANT

The Armed Forces Covenant is a promise that together we acknowledge and understand that those who serve or have served in the Armed Forces, and their families, including the bereaved, should be treated with fairness and respect in the communities, economy, and society they serve with their lives. Its two principles are that, recognising the unique obligations of, and sacrifices made by, the Armed Forces:

- Those who serve in the Armed Forces, whether Regular or Reserve, those who have served in the past, and their families, should face no disadvantage compared to other citizens in the provision of public and commercial services.
- Special consideration is appropriate in some cases, especially for those who have given most such as the injured and the bereaved.

You can read about the Covenant in depth, the full statement of the Covenant, or Covenant FAQs.

If you're a member of the UK Armed Forces (regular or reserve), a former member (a veteran), or a family member, including bereaved family members, the covenant offers a wide variety of support to ensure you are treated fairly.

AGGIES

Pastoral support to serving personnel and their families centred on Chaplaincy based 'Havens' situated on bases and Families Centres in SFA areas around the UK.

Aggie's Pastoral Workers are based in and around various Royal Navy, Royal Marines and Royal Fleet Auxiliary establishments across the UK and generally work in close collaboration with the Naval Chaplaincy Service.

Their primary role is to provide 'pastoral support' – by which means that they are there to listen to you when you need to talk, to encourage, comfort and support.

Storybook Waves

What is it?

Aggie's Storybook Waves enables personnel serving in the Royal Navy, Royal Marines and Royal Fleet Auxiliary to record a bedtime story for their children to listen to whilst they are separated.

BACK TO INDEX

FAMILIES, CHILDREN & CARERS

The Royal Navy, Royal Marines and the Royal Fleet Auxiliary deploy more frequently than personnel in the other services. Leaving loved ones behind when serving overseas or on board a ship, is a feature of life in the most 'separated service.' These separations can be especially difficult for children. Storybook Waves exists to help maintain the link between parent and child, no matter how far apart they may be.

HOUSING AND HOMELESSNESS

Support for veterans who are homeless, at risk of homelessness, or struggling to maintain stable accommodation.

OP FORTITUDE

Op FORTITUDE is a referral system that has been created to help ex-service personnel find housing support. It is funded by The Armed Forces Covenant Fund and is facilitated by the social housing provider Riverside Group.

Op FORTITUDE helps connect people in the Armed Forces Community who are experiencing homelessness to a network of support. The network includes:

- housing providers
- charities, and
- local authorities.

The services that Op FORTITUDE connect people with will help individuals address their risk of homelessness by either helping them stay in their current accommodation or find new housing options.

HOUSING AND HOMELESSNES

Additionally, Op FORTITUDE will signpost to complimenting services, including:

- specialist medical care,
- connections with local communities, and
- employment services.

These connections will help individuals with other aspects of their lives that might be impacting their ability to get or keep their housing options.

Apply for support

Even though the process is called "referral", veterans themselves can make their own referral for Op FORTITUDE support by completing the online form or by calling the freephone number below.

OP RESTORE

The Veterans Physical Health and Wellbeing Service is an NHS service that supports individuals who have served in, or are leaving, the UK Armed Forces and have continuing, physical health injuries and related medical problems attributed to their time in the Armed Forces. It is hosted here at Imperial College Healthcare NHS Trust.

Working together with military and civilian medical professionals, along with Armed Forces charities, the teams understand military life and the longer-term care and support that may be required for veterans, Service leavers, reservists, families and carers.

A Step By Step Guide to our Service

BACK TO INDEX

PHYSICAL INJURY, DISABILITY & REHABILITATION

How can OpRESTORE help?

If you have a physical health injury and related medical problems attributable to your time in Service, Op RESTORE can help by ensuring you can access the right care and support, making sure you are treated by people who understand the military and specialise in the type of physical injury and related medical problems you may have by putting together a care plan with you shaped around your specific physical care needs.

How can I get help through Op Restore?

You can book an appointment to speak with your GP and ask them to complete the OP Restore referral form - we will then create a plan for you using the clinical information from your medical records.

How long will it take?

Once we have your referral and the Service-related clinical information from your GP, our multi disciplinary team, made up of doctors, nurses and therapists, will review it. This process normally takes about eight weeks, during which time we will develop a plan for your care.
